ATR VERDICT: VOCARIUM promised a lot in his early days and races from his low weight and €4,000 valuation. A Punchestown festival bumper winner on debut in 2017, he is winless since 2018 but ran well enough in his races last year and might have the ability to win on reappearance. Eclair De Beaufeu, runner-up in the 2020 County Hurdle, was himself smart in the past and is still just an eight year old. He is race-fit but his recent performances, albeit in good races, have been underwhelming and gives 17lb to the selection (including claims). Big Jim Dwyer hasn't run for 426 days and debuts for Emmet Mullins. He was useful in the past, has a low weight and is suited by a sound surface. One Down was capable in the past but has pulled up on his last two starts and never travelled at Ballinrobe on his latest run. Classic Concorde is fairly useful but would prefer further.

ATR VERDICT: WALK ON THE MOONE's good pedigree is all stamina and she looks sure to benefit from stepping up in trip following her easy Kilbeggan bumper win. A half-sister to high-class stayers Sizing Tennesse and Mount Ida, she showed plenty ability at Kilbeggan and contests a winneable maiden on jumps debut. North Of Nashville herself showed plenty ability in winning her point-to-point on debut and over hurdles last November. However her last two runs were disappointing but could be better suited to reverting to a sound surface. Shesadream has been well beaten in her three bumper runs but was at least third at Ballinrobe and could be suited by stepping up to this distance. Tingarran Express ran reasonably well at Cork recently and has some place claims.

ATR VERDICT: DYLAN LOMBARDY disappointed on his latest run at Clonmel when weakening late-on, but had useful form in April. He must defy top weight but has trip and ground in his favour in a race which isn't easy on the eye. No Way Pedro is winless from 11 runs and makes his reappearance, but had good-ground form in similar handicaps last year. Tullyhogue Fort was well held on his latest start but can be forgiven his latest run, which was on the flat, and ran well at Ballinrobe in April and is a previous good-ground winner. The 10-year-old Princess Mahler has been running reasonably well, while The Big Chap makes his handicap debut.

ATR VERDICT: DAZZLING DOVE ran her best race when fourth in a 2m handicap at Fairyhouse last month. That was in an appreciably higher grade and Tom Gibney's mare should go close off just a 1lb higher mark if she proves suited by this longer trip. The daughter of Winged Love will be making only her third start in handicaps, so there should be more to come from her. Inforapenny was pulled up in a point-to-point on his return to action in March, but was knocking on the door in similar contests over hurdles in the autumn. The six-year-old found only one too good at Clonmel and Fairyhouse, likes good ground, and might sharpen up for the fitting of headgear. Tick Along, partnered by an in-form claimer, was placed over 2m4f at Bellewstown last year and should be better for her recent comeback, which was her first outing in nearly nine months.

ATR VERDICT: Henry de Bromhead has sent out several maiden hurdle winners this month and ITWASFATE can be another for the dual Gold Cup-winning trainer. The five-year-old, who made the frame in all three starts last term, returns from a break after finishing fourth at Clonmel in February. His best effort came when beaten only half a length at the Christmas meeting here and he may well improve for better ground. Course bumper winner Vinnie Is Busy was placed on his hurdling debut at Downpatrick in 2020 and returned from the best part of two years off when a creditable fourth at Fairyhouse. He hasn't completed in two starts since but has to be respected and is now tried in a visor. Rocco Bay, who is related to several winners in this discipline, was placed in a couple of useful bumpers on home soil before readily getting off the mark at Bangor. She likes good ground and is a notable hurdling debutant. The very experienced General Clermont and Simpatico, placed in his first two attempts over flights, have place claims.

ATR VERDICT: SHIROCCOVILLE showed much improved form on her first start for Emmet Mullins when landing a 2m4f handicap hurdle at Killarney last August. She was lame when pulled up over fences the following month and hasn't been seen since. Although a 12lb hike for her hurdles victory looks harsh enough, and she races without the hood worn at Killarney, there could be more improvement in the lightly-raced seven-year-old. Kinnegad Lad was useful in bumpers and his best run over hurdles was when third on his handicap debut at this venue a year ago. He now makes his first appearance for Gordon Elliott and the market will reveal how fancied he is in comparison to stablemate The Abbey, who gained his first win under NH Rules at Clonmel a fortnight ago and is now 6lb higher. Rebellious Gale kept on into fourth over less than two miles at Kilbeggan and could well fare better over this much longer trip.

ATR VERDICT: MOONOVERCLOON has shown promise over hurdles and now switches to a bumper after a break of over five months. The Matt Smith-trained gelding filled fourth spot in a 2m4f maiden at Navan in December and that form could hardly have worked out much better with the first two, The Goffier and Highland Charge, both winning at Grade 3 level while the third also won a maiden recently at Tipperary. Realistic Optimism made a promising debut at Fairyhouse but disappointed subsequently on soft ground. High City Roller ran too bad to be true when favourite on debut at Clonmel while any market move for We Had It All Said, a Flemensfirth gelding out of a bumper winner, would be interesting with Derek O'Connor booked for the ride.
